The University of Pittsburgh Office of Health Sciences Diversity is pleased to announce the inaugural year of the “Diversity in Practice Mini Grant Program.” Offered to support Goal #4 of the Plan for Pitt, Promote Diversity and Inclusion, this program is open specifically to Schools of the Health Sciences.

Diversity in Practice mini-grants are available to support initiatives which focus on:

1. Bringing to campus expert speakers on diversity and inclusion issues in the health professions
2. Supporting Initiatives on diversity recruitment and/or retention
3. Showcasing efforts focused on novel or innovative ways of incorporating diversity and inclusion in teaching, research, policy or curriculum

Each HS school may apply for up to $1000.00 in FY 2019.

Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis, and a one-page budget justification must accompany each proposal. Applicants will meet with HSD staff post-submission to ascertain how HSD might support implementation of the proposed initiative. A report of outcomes will be appreciated by the close of FY 2019. In the case of events, a report including an overview of proceedings and audience reached will be required within 30 days of hosting.
